A Most Exciting Scene.

[From the Milwaukee Wisconsin, June 1.]

On Saturday night Bailey & Co.'s circus and menagerie concluded its engagements in this city, and about 4 o'clock Sunday morning left tor Watertown. Those of our people who have driven on this road know the very bad condition the road is in, and will not be surprised to learn that one of the cages careened and fell into the ditch by the side of the road. The driver being thrown off struck a stone by the roadside, injuring himself so badly that he let go his horses, who started, pulling the capsized cage with them, and dragging it over the rough road. The animals in the cage, a lioness and her whelps, awakened from their slumbers, set us a terrific roar which frightened the horses, increasing their already rapid speed. Fortunately the horses broke from the wagon, before going a great distance. The affair created much excitement, as it was learned, through the scattered line, and the other teams closed up to it, in order that the attendants might render assistance. Upon attempting to lift the wagon back to its place, it was found that the cage of the lioness was broken, and the train master ordered it let down again until the tamer who had the cage in charge could be sent for. In letting it down a part of the cage caught the leg of one of the whelps, badly jamming it. Hitherto the lioness had paid no attention to the men gathered about, but when the whelp set up a cry of pain, the mother sprang up in anger .-This set the whelp to uttering most plaintive roars, when the rage of the older beast became terrific. It dashed to the whelp, began licking it, and at the same time uttered those loud roars which have made it so famous. Becoming enraged at its treatment it dashed to and fro in its narrow limits, throwing itself with full force against the sides of the cage.

A couple of lions in an adjoining apartment became excited over the scene, and not only added to the confusion by their roars, but strove to break down the barrier between the two cages. The scene was one of the most startling imaginable. All the beasts in the capsized those in vans which had halted near became frightened, and were uttering tokens of alarm in their peculiar manner. The horses, too, of all the vans, exhibited the utmost terror, requiring the efforts of the drivers to look after them. As soon as word came to the band wagon the camels and elephants were urged forward, and came up on a quick trot. But no sooner had the animals attached to the wagon come within the sound of the lions' voices than they exhibited the most abject fear. The elephant threw up its trunk and blew a terrific blast-a blast that startled all-even those who had before FRENCH AND AMERICAN MANUFACexhibited no signs of fear. Its keeper bravely kept by its side and attempted to quiet its suitable for Parlors, Dining Rooms, Halls, &c. fears, but the massive animal was thoroughly All orders for PAPERING Private Dwellings alarmed. It seemed to be insane, and its yells were full of agonized fear-filled with terror. in the most superior style at the lowest prices. The camels startled—some attempted to break from their harness, while others fell down flat, all uttering a peculiar cry. About this time the lion tamer came up, and hastened to the cage. The beasts had become so excited now that they scarcely noticed him, but made redoubled efforts to get out into the open air. Had the tamer at this time lacked a courage which seemed akin to utter recklessness, the beasts would no doubt have succeeded in making their escape. He went to the cage, and soon discovered the cause of the fury of the mother. He called the attendants of the teams to his aid, but they were scarcely to be blamed when they did not care to venture too near. Two or three of them came, and with the assistance of levers, separated the pieces of the cage so that the whelp extricated its foot. The mother, her suspense relieved with the release of the whelp, ceased her yells, and again commenced licking the wounded foot. The other lions seemed not entirely satisfied, and rather to enjoy the confusion they were creating. Reaching through the ventilator, the tamer struck one of them as heavy a blow as he could with a short iron bar, which seemed to send some reason into his head; and when the order came for him to move, he and his companion went into their own apartment, ceasing their howls, but keeping up a low, indignant growling, like dogs. The men came forward and raised the wagon to its place, fastening up the cage where it was broken, and the horses being attached, the team drove on. While this was being done, it seemed as if the band team would more than fill the bill which the lion family had attempted. Although the sound of the lions' voices could no longer be heard, its effect was left on the camels. Their keeper had detached them from the carriage, and had succeeded in getting them a few rods away. They now made no effort to escape, but lay down panting through fear, and apparently oblivious to everything around them. The monster elephant, also detached, seemed to be in a quandary as to what he should do. He slashed his trunk against his side with a the air blew blasts upon it, before which all at Alexandria on the cars of the O., A. & M.R. the trumpets of a band were as nothing. But by soothing and coaxing he was at length quieted, and again attached to the wagon. The camels were aroused at length by kicks and blows, and the strange animals moved on, trembling in every joint.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be sratched from all prespects and enjoyments of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain saeret habit. Such persons must, before contenteffect that a sound mind and body are the mas necessary requisites to promote connubial hap-piness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prosp et hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filed with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with your own.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE. When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seems of this painful disease it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those, who from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, disease d pearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, discussed nose, necturnal pains in the head and limbs, inose, necturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the ship-bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awill disease becomes a horrid object of commisserution, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to "that Undiscovered Country from whence no traveller returns." Country from whence no traveller returns. It is a MELANOHOLY FACT that thou sands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskilfulness of ignorant pretenders, will, by the use of that DEADLY POISON, Mr I:-CURY, ruin the constitution and make the residue of life miseraule. DR. JOHNSON, Office, No. 7, South Frederick Street, BALTIMORE, MD.,
